Student Profile

Hill Top Preparatory School is a private, college preparatory school serving students with complex learning differences in grades 5-12. Many of our students struggle to meet the academic and social demands in traditional school settings due to general disorganization, poor planning, distractibility and impulsivity, difficulty completing long term projects, and difficulty with transition.

Visit our website www.hilltopprep.org and click on “About Us” for more information about Hill Top Preparatory School. Our typical student profile includes, but is not limited to characteristics or diagnoses of the following:

- Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder
- Nonverbal Learning Disorder
- Auditory and visual processing disorders
- Written expression disorder
- Social skill deficits
- Asperger’s Disorder
- High anxiety
- Executive Functioning deficits

Academic Programming

Each student's individually tailored academic program capitalizes on and uses his or her strengths to navigate academic challenges. Our dedicated teachers develop an understanding and sensitivity to each student's needs.

Mentor Program

Each teacher at Hill Top serves as a mentor who oversees the academic lives of two to five students. Each day during Mentor Period, the mentor helps his or her students identify challenges and break them down into manageable pieces.

“My mentor was a major help for me improving my time management, organizational skills and my self esteem”

SPENCER M. '08

*“Hill Top has made a difference in the way
I learn by offering smaller class sizes.
Because of this, I have the ability to accomplish more, learn more and express myself”*
